

IMPACTFUL CONVERSATIONS

Communication Model for the Leaders of the New World Economy

WHO YOU ARE

Are you responsible for creating strong, high performing teams and innovation-driven culture? Are you passionate about discovering new, meaningful ways to collaborate and live your organizational values?

WHY YOU SHOULD CARE

Traditional power-based relationships and communication models do not yield sustainable results anymore. The world of digital economy seeks new ways of working.

Respect, trust, empathy, authentic self, curiosity, purpose - most organizations want these to become leading values in their workplace and need better ways of communicating to make it happen. However, these values cannot be embraced by learning new communication methods because communication is not a tool. It's a program playing our true mindset. When their mindsets align people can make real breakthroughs. Empathy based conversation model facilitates mindset alignment within your organisation.
